VOLUME CVIII.--NO. 85. ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1907. PRICE 2 CENTS.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS.

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian had learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "papoose root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

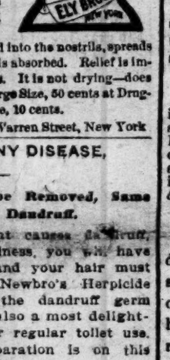
Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly prepared from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines, put up for sale through druggists for woman's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of spirituous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

For constipation, the true, scientific cure is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Mild, harmless, yet sure.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm



cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

TO CURE ANY DISEASE,

The Cause Must be Removed, Same Way With Dandruff.

Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff, and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Newbro's Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destroying the dandruff germs. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good," will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

Assaulted by a Negro.

At a late hour last night a posse was scouring the country in search of a burly negro who attacked Mrs. Minnie Spencer just after she had crossed the threshold of her home in Rosecroft, Md., near Washington, about noon yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Spencer is a young married woman, and it is due to her strength and pluck that she was able finally to fight off her assailant.

Throwing a heavy horse blanket over her head and drawing the folds tightly down about her waist, as she stepped inside her house, the man threw Mrs. Spencer violently to the floor. A struggle followed during which the woman fought her assailant vigorously, her cries for assistance being smothered by the heavy folds of the blanket,

Finally freeing her head, Mrs. Spencer screamed for help, and the negro, taking fright, beat a hasty retreat through the back door of the home and across the fields to the west of the Spencer home. Mrs. Spencer gave the posse of citizens, which quickly formed after the attempted assault, an excellent description of the man.

According to Mrs. Spencer, after putting to sleep her two-year-old nephew, who is being cared for in the Spencer home, she went to a near-by house, the home of a colored woman named Washington, who at times is employed as a domestic by the Spencer family to arrange for having laundry work done. When she left her home she did not lock the doors, thinking she would be away but a short while. Half an hour or so later the woman started for her home. Walking quickly into the house, she met the negro.

Mrs. Spencer is suffering from hysteria and nervous shock, in addition to the numerous bruises and cuts on her face and body.

Out of Sight,

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklin's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 25c.

Dentists Kills Wife.

Dr. Samuel S. Guy, a prominent dentist of Far Rockaway, Long Island, and for four years coroner of the borough of Queens, shot and instantly killed his wife, Lillian M. Guy, in the dining room of their home at Far Rockaway, at 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

He fired two shots from a revolver into her left breast, just over the heart and she was dead when a policeman reached her side, a few minutes after the shooting. Dr. Guy is fifty-nine years of age, and his wife was fifty-two He is now in custody.

The doctor had been on a spree, and it is said he was drunk when the murder was committed. Only a short time before the shooting he left a saloon across the street from his home. He was in a frisky humor.

Annie Hansen, a Norwegian servant girl, employed by Mrs. Guy, was the only witness of the tragedy. Her story to the police was that the doctor took off his coat in the hall or in his office at the front of the house just after he left the saloon.

Then he entered the dining room and passed into the kitchen, where he began to annoy the servant. Mrs. Guy took him back into the dining room, but in a moment he returned to the servant. Mrs. Guy again got him to return to the dining room. As the couple passed into the dining room and just before Mrs. Guy shut the door, she gave her husband a smart blow with the flat of her hand across the face.

The shooting took place a minute afterward. The girl says Mr. Guy had about time to walk into his office, where his revolver was, secure it, and return to the dining room. The two shots were fired almost together.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Preacher Whips Cowboys.

By thrashing two drunken cowboys who attempted to make him drink with them Rev. John McVey, a Methodist circuit rider and missionary working in the Hayes, S. D., field, has made himself the most popular preacher in South Dakota.

Mr. McVey was en route to a distant meeting-house last Saturday, and just after fording Bull creek was set upon by Weary Carney and Dog Temple, two well-known cowboys of the range. They attempted to make the preacher drink with them and threatened to pour the whisky down his throat. McVey, who is a college graduate, was on the football team while at school and is an all-around athlete. In a twinkling he had licked both men and so won their admiration that both went with him to the meeting. During services Temple arose and told of the occurrence, and he and Carney both promised to quit drinking.

A Criminal Attack

on an inoffensive citizen is frequently made in that apparently useless little tube called the "appendix." It's generally the result of protracted constipation, following liver torpor. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, prevent appendicitis and establish regular habits of the bowels. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Visitors to the Vatican.

The most Rev. James E. Quigley, Archbishop of Chicago, was given a farewell audience by the Pope yesterday. The archbishop was accompanied by twenty five Chicago students who were attending the American College in Rome. Archbishop Quigley entered the audience chamber alone and took leave of the Pope, who spoke highly of the development of his archdiocese, especially of the church extension movement, which he praised. The Pope said that as a sign of approbation he intended to send a special brief by the archbishop on the generosity the Chicagoans had shown in their offerings of Peter's Pence.

Finally Archbishop Quigley mentioned the students waiting outside, and the Pope said: "I want them all in here. I am accustomed to crowds, and am not afraid of them, especially when they consist of students for the priesthood."

The students were received in the Pope's private room, being thus granted the privilege of a special private audience, which is unprecedented in Vatican etiquette. The Pope spoke in warm and affectionate terms of Mgr. Kennedy.

The Pope's allusion to Mgr. Kennedy's return to Rome is interpreted as a sign that he will remain in charge of the American College, and will not be elevated to a bishopric in America.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1907.

TODAY is the forty-second anniversary of the surrender by General Lee to General Grant of the Army of Northern Virginia. The exultation of many composing Alexandria's miscellaneous population at that time is well-remembered by older citizens. A large percentage of the residents were of northern birth, and these, added to soldiers and the corporal's guard of Alexandrians who were sympathizers with the federal authorities, attempted to "paint the town red." The fire bells were rung throughout most of the day, while salvos from artillery could be heard here and there. There were many true men and women, however, who nurtured an isborn sorrow as the result of the four years' conflict, and to these the day was the darkest in all their lives. The hand of fate had crushed cherished hopes, and there was but one thing to do—accept the inevitable quietly, and this they did with the best grace possible, following an example set by the great commander, Robert E. Lee.

THAT THE Isle of Pines is not American territory was declared yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States in a just decision handed down by Chief Justice Fuller. This decision knocks flat the scheme promoted for several years by various politicians, among whom were a number of prominent Pittsburgers, to have the island declared under the jurisdiction of United States, instead of Cuba. The aim was to be able to import the island's produce, duty free, into the United States. The decision was rendered in the famous case of, Edward J. Pearcy vs. Nevada N. Stranahan, Collector of the Port at New York. The opinion of the court was announced by Chief Justice Fuller, who said that up to the Paris treaty the Isle of Pines had been considered as an integral part of Cuba, and that it could not be held to be covered by article 2 of that treaty, which included only islands in the vicinity of Porto Rico. The case originated in connection with the importation of a few boxes of cigars by Pearcy, in September, 1903, but its hearing by the court was from time to time postponed, in the hope that the status of the island might be definitely fixed by legislation or diplomacy.

JUDGE FIEDLER, in Cleveland, Ohio, Police Court, recently sentenced a man to a year and a half of cleanliness. The man had been arrested for neglecting his four small children, and during the examination it was shown that he had not taken a bath in ten years. The judge sent the delinquent to the work house with instructions to the superintendent to keep him there eighteen months and to see that he took a bath twice a day. This brings to mind an incident which occurred about forty years ago in Alexandria when the late Hugh Latham was Mayor of the city. An unkempt individual, an enemy of soap all his life, was brought before the Police Court charged with a misdemeanor. His honor, after hearing the case, told the prisoner if he would submit to a first-class wash he would release him, otherwise he would send him to the work house for thirty days. The delinquent informed the court that he preferred to go to the work house.

THE Russian Ambassador at Washington has transmitted to Secretary of State Root the message from the Czar's government containing the reservations made by the various Powers invited to participate in The Hague conference; that is, the amendments each has made to the original programme as announced by Russia at the time the meeting was proposed. All of the governments have accerted the invitation, but in so accepting have stipulated as to what subjects they may propose for discussion and also as to the right of refraining from discussing certain subjects. It is expected that a formal invitation from the Dutch government to meet at The Hague will follow shortly, the date to be some time in June.

IT IS reported from Chicago that the Pennsylvania Railroad, in addition to a 10 per cent. increase in wages, has made arrangements to increase the pension fund from $890,000 to $600,000. Now look out for another raise in rates.

WINTER and summer are playing a game of hide and seek in the lap of spring.

Washington, April 9.

Mrs. Ida. M. von Claussen, the woman who has a grievance against Minister and Mrs. Graves, because they refused to present her to King Oscar, of Sweden called at the White House today, in order to lay her case before the President. Secretary Loeb refused to see her when she sent in her card, and deputized Assistant Secretary Forster to interview her in the visitors' ante-room. He explained that it would be impossible for the President to receive her. She thereupon left with Forster the following letter:

"To the Right Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States.

Mrs von Claussen is in receipt of President Roosevelt's refusal to see her and redress the insults offered her by his representatives in Sweden, Minister and Mrs. Graves. She can not again appeal to the State Department, as she received its final decision before she left Sweden.

"Mrs. von Claussen begs President Roosevelt to at once appoint a committee of experts to make sure that she is of sound mind before she proceeds further in the case, for she well knows, from previous reports, that when President Roosevelt is 'cornered' he has a habit of appointing such committees to help him out of his difficulties.

"Therefore, not caring to lay herself open to further criticism, Mrs. von Claussen demands that such a committee be appointed at once; otherwise she will call in the experts herself.

"IDA M. VON CLAUSSEN."

All hands at the White House who had the opportunity of seeing Mrs. von Claussen voted her the handsomest caller that has appeared there in many a day. She is tall, statesque, and Gibsoney. She was attired in brown, from her huge picture-hat with its sweeping plumes to her dainty Oxford ties, and carried a big white muff. If the crowd in the ante room expected Mrs. von Claussen to make a "scene" they were disappointed, for she bore herself with considerable dignity throughout the interview with Mr. Forster. "I have been grossly insulted by Minister and Mrs. Graves and I have come to see if the President will not redress my wrongs" she said. "The President has decided to turn the whole matter over to the State Department and cannot see you" said Mr. Forster. "Then I would like to lay the case before Secretary Loeb." "Mr. Loeb is busy." "Then I will not be able to see either of them?" "No, I am afraid not." "Very well," exclaimed the fair caller, "then please see that the President gets this letter." Mrs. von Claussen handed Secretary Forster the letter she had written to the President and started toward the door. "The President has refused to aid me—to come to my assistance," she said as she stepped into her carriage, "and now he may take the consequences." Just what the "consequences" are to be, Mrs. von Claussen did not say. Neither did she throw any more light upon the appointment of the committee of insanity experts that she announced in the letter would be appointed.

When Mrs. von Claussen returned to her hotel, the Willard, she talked with newspaper representatives with much freedom. "I'd like to give Roosevelt the water cure," said she. "It would just do me good to put his head under a hydrant and turn on the water". Up to this point, I have been in perfect good humor, but when I am treated with contempt by the government which I sought to keep from ridicule in Europe, I loss my temper. I almost had to laugh at the pompous way in which the messenger, or somebody at the White House came out to say that Mr. Loeb was busy and could not see me. I want you men to tell the world that it is an outrage; put it in big type that there is a "conspiracy." "To tell the truth the about matter," said Mrs. von Claussen, "the reason Mrs. Graves would not present me to the King of Sweden after he had expressed his wish that I be presented was that she was jealous of my dress." Asked when she was going to leave Washington, Mrs. von Claussen said: "Not until after I have made it so hot that they will grant me redress for my wrongs. If I just get that lunacy commission appointed so they cannot put me in jail for saying what I want to, I will uncover some things.

In order to handle more easily the business coming before it, the Interstate Commerce Commission has divided the United States into six districts. The chairman of the commission has assigned one of his colleagues to each district to have charge of the correspondence and minor cases coming up for determination in that territory. One assignments is as follows: Commissioner Clements—Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee.

It was intimated this afternoon at the offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission that the Commission has decided to hale E. H. Harriman into the Federal court in New York for his refusal to answer certain questions in the recent hearing in that city. A formal announcement is expected later in the day. The Commission spent all morning considering the case.

Attorney General Bonaparte, at the conclusion of today's cabinet metting, announced that the President would appoint Oscar R. Hundley, United States District Judge in Alabama. A number of protests had been received at the White House from both democrats and republicans against Judge Hundley, but the President, after investigation, decided to make the appointment.

The proposed new treaty between Great Britain and the United States for the settlement of all outstanding questions relating to fisheries and the use of water from lakes and rivers forming the boundary lines between this country and Canada has been drafted. While it is still subject to amendment—and it has been changed many times and in many particulars from its original form—it is believed that it is now almost in the form in which it will be submitted for ratification of the two powers. Under its terms it is expected that a complete agreement will be reached regarding the Newfoundland fisheries, the seal fisheries, and the fisheries in Lake Champlain and other waters. It will also include regulations by which a complete agreement will be affected as to the amount of water to be taken by citizens of both countries from the Niagara river at the Falls, from the Milk river in Montana, the Rainey Lake in Minnesota, and the St. John's river in Maine. The details will be worked out by a joint commission provision for which is contained in the treaty. Pending the assembling of Congress next winter when the treaty will be submitted for ratification by the Senate it is expected that a modus vivendi will be signed by Secretary Root and Ambassador Bryce to cover the coming fishing season in Newfoundland waters similar to that which governed those operations last fall.

POLITICAL.

Yesterday was court day in Leesburg, and the five candidates for the nomination for Congress from the Eighth district took advantage of this opportunity to present their claims to their prospective constituents. Chairman Bruin, of the county committee, presided over the gathering, which was held in the courthouse.

According to the programme, Mr. James C. Hooe, of Bluemont, was the first speaker, followed in turn by former Judge Nicol, ex-Speaker Ryan, R. L. Gordon, of Louisa, and C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria. In his introduction of each speaker the chairman made a pleasant allusion, saying this was a contest between democrats and gentlemen, and would be conducted accordingly.

At the outset of his remarks, Mr. Hooe said it had been stated he was not a resident of the district which he was seeking to represent at Washington. This was unjust and unfounded, for his family had been in Loudoun county since 1825, and he had been born and reared there. He lived on the farm which he had bought and was operating at Bluemont, and he proposed to raise his son among his friends and neighbors in his own home and county. After this introduction the speaker set forth in a terse, straightforward manner his qualifications for the nomination and the service he could render the Eighth district if sent to Washington by its voters.

Judge Nicol reiterated his platform, which, he said, he had distributed throughout the district through the press, and pledged himself anew to government aid for public roads and schools. He favored, however, permitting the State to control any expenditures for these purposes. In conclusion, he declared he only wanted to serve two terms in Congress, after which he would be willing to step aside and devote his attention and time to other business than making laws. This course was predicated upon the proposition that he would be the successor in Congress of the late John F. Rixey.

Ex-Speaker Ryan referred to the record he had made while a member of the house of delegates and said he desired to add another honor to Loudoun county if the voters of the Eighth district selected him to go to Washington. Had he been a Congressman at the time, he would not have voted in favor of a war with Spain, for he had advised against such a step in the course of a conversation with the late Fitzhugh Lee, when the latter returned from Cuba after the destruction of the Maine. In concluding his remarks, Mr. Ryan read a letter from Mr. Epps, a patron of one of the "jim crow" laws, in which it was declared Mr. Ryan had rendered efficient service in the enactment of that legislation.

Mr. Gordon devoted most of his time to the denunciation of monopolies, and declared he would sooner live under an aristocratic king than under a king made by money. He was against one man power centralization and paternalism, believing that such a course would be of material benefit to the whole country. He directed attention to a recent statement of the son of John D. Rockefeller that one hundred plants were sacrificed to make one American beauty rose as an argument for the continuation of trusts. This, the speaker declared, meant that the money power would not hesitate to sacrifice hundreds of homes and interests to maintain one rich man's palace or stifle competition.

Mr. C. C. Carlin, the last speaker, directed attention to the fact that for the first time in his life he was passing his birthday absent from home, for he was 41 at the moment he was addressing his fellow-citizens of Loudoun. He alluded pleasantly to the friendly relations existing between the other candidates and himself; alluded to a story told by Judge Nicol, who had preceded him, in which the judge had stated that in fancy he saw himself falling overboard from a gallant craft and calling upon his fellow-passengers to come to his rescue by sending him to Congress. "Judge Nicol made this mistake," said Mr. Carlin, "he should have said he had jumped, not fallen overboard.

Mr. Carlin then referred to the statement of ex-Speaker Ryan, from whom he said he differed regarding the Spanish war. "There was nothing left for us," said the speaker, "but to favor the course of the lamented McKinley, who took the necessary steps to avenge the outrage committed upon sleeping Americans in the harbor of Havana aboard the ill fated Maine."

Taking up in detail some of the topics discussed by the preceding speakers, Mr. Carlin said it was not necessary to go abroad for grievances of which the farmers of the Eighth district had cause to complain. A discrimination was being made at Washington against the dairymen and farmers of Fairfax and Loudoun, whereby Marylanders were being given a preference in the issuance of permits to sell the products of the dairy and farm. He would devote his energies and time to fighting this if he was sent to Washington from the Eighth district. Mr. Carlin concluded his remarks by saying that a great deal had been brought out during the afternoon concerning past records. He was anxious and willing to make a new one for his constituency if they honored him with a nomination at the June primaries. "In other words," he said, "give one of the colts a chance to jump the hurdles."

DELMAS'S INVECTIVES.

The trial of Harry K. Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, is nearing the end. Attorney Delphin M. Delmas, the Californian advocate, yesterday afternoon began his closing address to the jury, and after he had spoken for more than two hours and a half, an adjournment was taken until this morning. District Attorney Jerome will make the closing address of the trial on Wednesday, and Thaw's fate should be in the hands of the jury by Wednesday evening.

Declaring he would not base his plea upon the "unwritten law," because his client found ample protection in the written statutes of the State of New York, Mr. Delmas made a striking appeal to the sympathies of the jurors, and so far as he progressed yesterday the subject of Thaw's insanity at the time he committed the homicide was not even hinted at.

Mr. Delmas based his argument solely upon the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

Mr. Delmas declared that God heard the cry of the fated child upon whom Stanford White had fixed his gaze and had determined should be his. He quoted from Scripture that "He who afflicts a fatherless child shall perish," and declared that Providence had sent Thaw to avenge the wrong.

The attorney declared that Thaw is his wife's only protector—that he came into her life when she was on the downward path, told her that no matter what the world thought of her, she was to him an angel. He took her to be his wife, ready to share the burdens that a mother had helped to place upon her daughter.

"Even a beast protects its young," he declared, with scornful emphasis, "but this unnatural mother deserted her daughter in this city of millions to be betrayed by a false friend, to be lured into a gilded palace and there left the victim of a gray-haired man, wounded bleeding and defouled."

Mr. Delmas went with great detail into the life Evelyn Nesbit had led up to the meeting with Harry Thaw. In all of his remarks he referred to her as "the child," for child he said she was today. He told of Thaw's great love for her and his efforts to rescue her from "the clutches of Stanford White," whose achievements in his profession, the attorney declared, were an aggravation of his crime.

Mr. Delmas before beginning his attack upon Evelyn Thaw's mother, poured out a torrent of denunciation upon the architect who became the victim of Thaw's pistol. He accused him of the "crime of rape," and then declared that President Roosevelt had said in a message to Congress that such a crime should be visited with death. This was one of the suggestions which Thaw himself made to his counsel for his summing-up speech—one of the suggestions which played so important a part in the proceedings before the lunacy commission.

White was charged with building altars, sanctuaries and churches, while he determined Evelyn Nesbit should be his and that he was a despoiler of childhood.

Delmas quoted the scriptures to the effect that "He who afflicts a fatherless child shall perish."

The Hummel affidavit was denounced as the work of a perjurer and felon and the crowning act of a life of misdeeds; Hummel committed perjury in an effort to send Thaw to death.

The following are some of Delmas's peroations: "Oh, Stanford White, who entrapped a child who had no father, who had been deserted by her mother and was left alone in a city of millions, had you imagined that God would not hear that cry? Had you forgotten that retribution would be at hand? Better had it been for you that you died before that day, for then you might have died in the splendor of your fame; when your departure would have been deplored by your family; when all would have attended your obsequies; before your name was a by-word, and before your genius had been an aggravation of your crime!

"Oh, shame upon this woman [Evelyn Thaw's mother]! Not content with what she has already done, she would take away the life of the one human being who came as an angel into the life of this girl on the downward path.

"The word of the common felon-Abraham Hummel—a perjurer, was all the prosecution had brought forth to show Evelyn's story false. It is a melancholy picture—that of a man in the declining years of life, when the time is approaching when life's sun is setting, crowning a life strewn along its entire path with misdeeds by one crowning act of infamy—in resorting to perjury in an attempt to deprive a fellow-being of life. That wretched little man!"

Culpeper Politics.

The democratic county committee of Culpeper has named Saturday, May 25, as the time for holding primaries throughout the county for the various county and district offices.

The chief fight is being waged for the offices of sheriff and county treasurer. The present treasurer, S. Russell Smith, is being opposed by E. O. Willis, from the lower end of the county. Alfred Pulliam, the present sheriff, who succeeded his father to this position, which has been held by them for perhaps thirty-five years, is being opposed by John A. Bowersett, present deputy sheriff and jailer, and by James O. Yowell, deputy county treasurer and tax collector. For the house of delegates Daniel A. Slaughter, the present representative and candidate to succeed himself, is again being opposed by Alden Bell, mayor of Culpeper. The chairman of the counties of Culpeper, Rappahannock, Orange, and Madison, comprising the democratic senatorial committee for the Fifteenth senatorial district, conferred yesterday and have decided to hold their party primary to nominate a candidate for State senator on Saturday, May 25. Today's Telegraphic News

The Thaw Case.

New York, April 9.—With the resumption of Attorney Delmas' summing up today, Harry Thaw's "day in court" is drawing to its close. It is possible Thaw may know his fate at the hands of his jury tomorrow night. It is expected the case will go to the jury late tomorrow afternoon.

Delmas resumed his argument when the court opened this morning. He was in excellent voice and as he launched into his continued speech, the jury listened to him with even greater interest than was manifested yesterday.

In opening Delmas referred briefly to how he had shown the early life of Evelyn, the meeting with White, her betrayal by White, and her meeting with Thaw, and how he had endeavored to analyze the evidence of Abraham Hummel. He again went into an attack on Hummel, referring to it as the only thing against Evelyn's story. "May my eyes never see the high officer of the people," declared Delmas, "stand here and upon the testimony of this convicted felon whom he examined when the proof of his perjury was opened before him, ask twelve men to return a verdict that would make this young wife a widow. You do believe, in your hearts, you know that no human imagination could have invented the story Evelyn Thaw told you, that no actress day after day could have stood all the tricks known to lawyers to break down a witness unless her story were true." Delmas then depicted the effect of her story upon Thaw.

Delmas painted vivid pictures of the depression Evelyn's recital caused in the prisoner, going over all the details of the evidence and dwelling upon many points he considered important. He argued that Thaw was irresponsible because his reason had been overthrown, which Delmas declared should free him.

A recess was taken at 12:30 until 2 o'clock, when Delmas will conclude his summing up. It was announced that Jerome would not begin his speech until tomorrow morning.

Delmas resumed his argument when the court reconvened. The court room was densely crowded.

Thaw is confident of a favorable verdict.

Satisfaction In Havana.

Havana, April 9.—Secretary Taft's declarstion to committees of moderates, liberals and bankers, which waited upon him to find out what is the programme of the United States for Cuba, that a census must be taken before any election can be held, has given almost universal satisfaction here. Only a few radical liberals who are anxious for offices openly express their dissatisfaction.

Secretary Taft added further to the joy of the conservatives and the discomfort and dissatisfaction of the liberal political leaders here this afternoon when he gave the Cuban business men to understand that the date of the reestablishment of the Republic is still quite distant, and then when the restoration comes it will be made conditional upon the maintenance of peace upon the island. This afternoon Secretary Taft was a guest of honor at a grand review of the American troops on the island. With his party he will sail for Porto Rico tomorrow afternoon.

Steamer on the Rocks.

Port Chester, N. Y., April 9.—With her bow stove in and her hold filled with water, the steamer Sagamore, of the Oyster Bay and Cold Springs towing company, is fast in the rocks off this port and it is feared she will be a total loss. The steamer went aground last night during a high wind storm which threw her on the rocks off Manursing Island. The blow was so severe the bow crumbled in. Inside of a few moments, the hull rested on the bottom. The high wind prevailing today has prevented wrecking tugs assisting the steamer much and, unless it abates, fears are entertained the Sagamore will be a total wreck. Captain J W. Young, owner of the steamer, and seven men were aboard when the Sagamore struck, but all are safe.

Narrow Escape of Emperor William.

London, April 9. Emperor William of Germany had the narrowest kind of an escape from death in a motor accident today, according to a Berlin despatch just received here by the Central News. The Kaiser was speeding through the city in one of his motor cars when a collision with a heavy automobile truck seemed inevitable. His chauffeur applied the emergency brakes and the cars barely grazed. The Kaiser's machine skidded across the street and struck the curb with terrific force. His majesty was badly shaken up and was immediately surrounded by a crowd. The word quickly spread that his majesty had been seriously injured, but aside from a severe shaking up he escaped unhurt.

Verdict in Favor of Smathers.

New York, April 19—The jury in the case of the Memphis Trotting Association against E. E. Smathers, to recover the gold cup won by Major Delmar in 1904, today returned a verdict in favor of Smathers. The cup was won in 1904 in a race with Lou Dillon at Memphis. Charges had been made that Lou Dillon had been "doped," but the verdict of the jury practically disproves these charges. It took the jury nine hours to reach a conclusion. Smathers will now retain possession of the cup.

Newhouse, of Culpeper county, a former member of the House of Delegates and later an employee of that body, will be a candidate for the position of Register of the Land Office and Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings at the election by the next Legislature. Believes His Son was Murdered

The four-year-old son of Col. Samuel L. Adams, of Cluster Springs, W. Va., was burned to death Thursday, and an investigation, which has been in progress since that time, leads to the belief that the boy was murdered and thrown into a feed house, which was fired to conceal the crime.

Mr Adams has information that just before the feed barn burst into flames a strange man was seen running from the barn toward the railroad track, 150 yards away. The evidence is so strong that the boy was murdered that a detective has been employed on the case.

S. L. Adams is a lawyer and a prohibitionist. Recently he has been employed to appear in three or four cases in which distillers, who left West Virginia as a result of the Watts law, sought to set up business in Virginia. Mr. Adams went into court to oppose the granting of license to these.

Since Mr. Adams, in the capacity of attorney, became so active in resisting the granting of license to those distillers he had received a warning on two occasions that unless he desisted from his attitude at that time he would come to personal grief.

Mr. Nesbit's Address.

Every man who went to the Presbyterian Church last night to hear Mr. Charles F. Nesbit, of Washington, in his address, "Christianity and Modern Business Methods," came away with something to think about, for Mr. Nesbit skilfully summed up the great question which is before the American and the Christian people of today, a question which demands an answer.

Mr. Nesbit began by referring to the fact that he is a business man, who has long loved the study of sociology, and spoke of certain personal investigations he had made in New York and other centers of population. Then he defined Christianity to mean the establishment of the kingdom of God on earth. This kingdom has a two-fold expression. Personally in the individual's heart Without this phase there is no kingdom of God to that individual. The prayer expressing this relation is the prayer of the publican, "God be merciful to me a sinner." The other phase is the social, in which man's relation to man is expressed. For man cannot live alone. The Lord's Prayer, beginning with "Our Father," is the expression of this. Then he spoke of the petition to "give us this day our daily bread," and claimed that there was no question about God having provided food and clothing for every creature he has placed on the earth.

Next Mr. Nesbit defined business. All wealth is the product of land and labor. Every man should have the right to work, and if given the right of the land a living is assured. No acre of land has ever been exhausted. One man near Paris works ten men on one acre of land, raising vegetables, and last year he cleared over $4,000.

Then he spoke of feudal times when men by might got monopolies of the land of the highways, Then after ages came the awakening, when men realized that all should have equal privileges, and all should have equal right to approach unto God. Independence came. The present rise of monopolies is but the revival of the feudalistic principle. The question which Christinity can solve, if it lives out the principles of the Man of Galilee, is the proper adjustment of these problems. Mr. Nesbit said he was not his brother's keeper, that he is his brother's brother. And, as his brother, was bound to give him an equal chance with himself.

The address was of unusual power throughout, and it is only to be regretted that the men of Alexandria did not turn out en masse to hear the distinguished speaker. About one hundred and fifty were present. The Presbyterian Brotherhood will bring one or two more prominent speakers to the city this spring.

The choir gave some choice selections during the evening which were greatly enjoyed.

To Present a Play.

On Tuesday, April 16th, at eight o'clock, in the Academy hall, corner Prince and Columbus streets, "The Witch of Bramble Hollow" a drama in four acts will be presented by the pupils of St. Mary's for the benefit of the Academy. Over a year ago a large and commodious addition was erected at a great expense, and it is to help to pay for this improvement that the entertainment is to be given. The drama from the facile pen of Marie Cote unfolds a direct and simple, but powerful, story into which all the fascination of school life is interwoven; the Witch of "Bramble Hollow" and her dark crime gives to the play the force of a tragedy, while the band of gypsies with the waif, Gyp the dancer, lends a wild charm that is entrancing. Over fifty young ladies will take part in the play which promises to be a dramatic and financial success; for the citizens of Alexandria have ever responded generously at the first call for material help in the upbuilding of St. Mary's Academy, and it is through this generosity that the Sisters have been enabled to carry their work forward until today the Academy stands an architectural ornament to our city and an educational institution within whose walls upwards of two hundred of our children are being trained to noble womanhood yearly. The Sisters cordially invite their many friends and benefactors to lend the encouragement of their presence to the young ladies appearing for the first time in the role of actresses, and at the same time to help them to lighten the heavy debt that now rests upon the building.

Variety of Weather.

The weather has passed through a series of transitions during the past twenty-four hours. The cold and rainy conditions of Sunday were followed by clearing weather yesterday which continued into last night, but between 9 and 10 o'clock the heavens became overcast and later rain began to fall which continued throughout the night and early this morning with a cold easterly wind, the mercury in the thermometer being below 40°. About 8 o'clock snow was falling thick and fast, the wind having in the meantime veered to the west. Later it changed to the northwest and came in heavy flaws with the blinding snow. The temperature in the meantime had become more raw and only

Wedding.

Mr. S. Cooper Dawson, of Seminary Hill, and Miss Edna French Horner, daughter of the late R. H. Horner, of Fauquier county, were married at 10 o'clock this morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stabler, No. 224 south Washington street, Rev. Berryman Green officiating. Miss Henrietta Horner, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and Mr. Philip Dawson, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a handsome dark blue traveling dress and carried white roses. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate families of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends being present. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dawson left for a wedding trip through the north.

Trinity M. E. Church.

Rev. W. W. Van Arsdale has been appointed to succeed Rev. J. A. Jeffers as pastor of Trinity M. E. Church in this city. Rev. Mr. Jeffries has been in charge of the church seven years, and during his stay in Alexandria he has become acquainted with most of the people of this city. He has been indefatigable in his work and has labored faithfully not only in the interests of his own flock but for the cause of christianity generally. His many friends and acquaintances regret that the time has come for his transfer to another charge. The reverend gentleman who is to succeed him and take up the work his predecessor has laid down will find the field in good condition for his labors.

The "Divine Healer."

Schrader, the "divine healer," is in Washington. He wears a robe of purple blue, and a cap or miter of the same color, with a cross dangling from a chain and wearing another on the cap. His face is olive-colored, the expression seemingly frank, his eyes clear and his hair and beard a profuse shower of a color made familiar in certain holy pictures. Schrader says he is the pope of the church he represents which numbers two million souls, with missionary priests at different points, among whom is Rev. A. O. Leach, of Alexandria. There are also bishops, archbishops and cardinals.

Birthday Celebration.

Master J. Clinton Knight, son of Mr. R. E. Knight, celebrated the 16th anniversary of his birth at his home on south Fairfax street last night. Between forty and fifty of the young man's friends gathered, and a most delightful evening was experienced by all present. The host and guests participated in games and there was enlivening music. Seasonable refreshments were served during the evening. The company departed at a late hour highly pleased with the entertainment.

Alleged Attempt to Rob Mail.

Tom Baker, colored, was arrested at Stafford Courthouse Monday morning by Joseph F. Glover, of this city, Deputy U. S. Marshal, on the charge of attempting to rob the mail between Stafford Courthouse and Stafford Store. He was brought to Fredericksburg and taken before U. S. Commissioner W. W. Butzner, who continued the case until the 16th instant. Baker gave bail with C. A. Bryan as security.

Cost of Military Guard.

Adjutant-General Anderson has received the report of the commanding officers of the Fredericksburg military company which was on duty in this city in connection with the trial of George Midgets, the convicted murder of Chas. T. Smith. For the pay of officers and men and transportation the bill against the State was about $600.

Auction Sale Tomorrow.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, auctioneer, will sell at 11 o'clock a. m. tomorrow in front of the Royal street entrance to the City Hall the desirable brick residence and lot of ground at the southeast corner of Duke and Washington streets. The house will be open for inspection from 8 o'clock tomorrow morning till the day of sale.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Amy C. Weech will deliver an address in the Baptist Church, on Thursday evening, April 11, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Weech is bright and witty and a very pleasant speaker, and can assure a very enjoyable and profitable evening to all who attend. A collection will be taken up for the benefit of the Children's Home on Duke street.

A freight car of the electric railway collided with the rear end of a train on upper King street yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. A passenger train which had entered King street stopped for some cause, and the freight car which was following collided with it. No one was hurt, although the cars were somewhat damaged

French Strother Defends Brother.

Seated at a table in the dining room in the Prince William Hotel at Manassas, Saturday afternoon, were H. F. Lynn, president; Westward Hutchison, cashier; and A. C. Hieneken and T. B. Putnam, directors of the Manassas National Bank.

At another table sat Professor W. W. Briggs, of the Oakdale Academy, of this States and Nathan Tucker, agent for the United States Realty Company, of Washington.

Seated by himself at another table was G. French Strother, of Welch, W. Va.

A conversation arose at the first table as to the danger of incorporating in the statutes of this State the so-called unwritten law, which has been discussed pretty freely throughout the country for the last few months.

This discussion brought about a reference to the Strother-Bywaters case at Culpeper, which drew from Mr. Hieneken an expression of opinion that the Strother brothers, charged with the murder of Bywaters, should have been punished.

No sooner had this opinion been expressed than Mr. Strother arose from his seat and went out into the corridor and through the open door of the dining-hall. Mr. Tucker saw him take from a hand-bag a revolver and place it in his hip-pocket.

Upon re-entering the dining-hall, he walked up to the table at which Mr. Hieneken and his friends were seated, and said. "Gentlemen, I am a brother of the Strother boys, and I heard your expression of opinion a few moments ago, which was very unpleasant to me, and I want to say that if there should be any further expressions of opinion along that line, there will likely be trouble."

Mr. Hieneken remarked that they were discussing a public question and intended no insult whatever to Mr. Strother, as neither himself nor his friends were aware of his presence, and so the incident closed. — [Richmond News-Leader.

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1907.

Golden Jubilee.

The golden jubilee celebration of St. Ignatius' Catholic Church in Baltimore which began with elaborate services Sunday, was continued last night with a reception tendered Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop P. J. Donahue and the fathers of the Society of Jesus.

The celebration was formally concluded yesterday with a mass for the repose of the souls of the former pastors of the church and the deceased members of the congregation.

The reception last night was an exceptionally elaborate affair, and was attended by more than 800 persons. It was held in the large hall of Loyola College, which adjoins the church at Calvert and Monument street. Cardinal Gibbons, attired in the gorgeous robes of his office, occupied a seat in the center of the stage with Bishop Donahue and Rev. John F. Quick, pastor of the church, on his left.

The reception to the prelates and priests followed an elaborate musical programme, the audience passing along the stage in single file from right to left, each one kissing the Cardinal's signet ring. The reception lasted for nearly an hour, and immediately thereafter the Cardinal left the hall, having limited time at his disposal.

Brands Volunteers.

Dr. Paul Bettix, professor of Greek and Latin in the Central University of Oskaloosa Iowa, on Saturday unfurled the banner of King Jesus, and called for 144,000 volunteers to join in a crusade to Christianize the world. Dr. Bettix has burned with acid a cross on his forehead, and every one of the 144,000 apostles must do the same. The faculty of the Holiness University immediately expelled the leader of the crusade. In his proclamation, Dr. Bettix says:

"Brethern, in the name of King Jesus I unfurl today the banner of Christ's own volunteers, for the crusade of the twentieth century. I call for 144,000 apostolic men to evangelize every living soul of our race within the next few years. One apostolic missionary to every 10,000 souls. Needed at once, 3,000 apostolic volunteers for South America; 40,000 for China; 23,000 for India; 15,000 for Africa; 12,000 for Russia; to go without scrip nor purse on Christ's own plan as laid down in Matthew, x. The mark of our apostolic covenant is the sign of the cross indelibly marked on our forehead, which gives God's own plan of world evangelization."

Ryan Purchases "Bellevue"

"Bellevue," the old Snead plantation in Nelson county, has been purchased by Thomas F. Ryan, of New York and Virginia. The new owner will remodel the house. He already has a contractor and architect on the work of preparing plans for a mansion of a palatial character.

For generations the Snead home has been one of the most picturesque and famous places in the South. Not only has its thousand acres been noted for their fertility and splendid production qualities, but hundreds of acres of virgin timber on the property are said to be worth four times the total cost of the property.

French and Italian landscape gardeners are said to be already at work altering and beautifying the place. The mansion is to be furnished with the richest adornments to be found in the capitals of Europe, and when completed will rival many of the palaces of the Old World.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Guaranteed under the food and drugs act, June 30th, 1906. Serial number 1098.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.
